The Interlake School Division (ISD) recognizes that today's learners may require programming that is specific to an individual's circumstances. The Division's off-campus, high school alternative program, The Infinity Program (TIP), is designed to meet the individual academic/social/emotional needs of students who are experiencing challenges in their regular high school program.

The off-campus program is an inclusive environment, designed to help students overcome individual obstacles by supporting them in building resilience, balancing personal growth and academic achievement, and strengthening communication between students, their families, schools and community support organizations. The goal of TIP is to maximize the opportunity for students to achieve their individualized learning outcomes. The Infinity Program works in partnership with ISD high schools to determine eligibility and suitability for programming.
